When we say we didn't know there was box, we mean it. At ICON we provide full customization from idea generation to engineering and even installation. Together with clients we blend shade and art together in iconic structures that will stand the test of time. We work with professionals all over North America who design, build and maintain public spaces.

Our process begins when a client brings us a sketch or raw ideas for their structure. We conference call to shape the vision of the structure and open a line of communication. Our goal is to fully understand your vision and bring it to life. Our structures are sent to the site prefabricated and pre-engineered. Everything is bolted together, making for an easy installation.
